

Latest advances in allergy management

PLEASE JOIN US FOR A VIRTUAL PRESENTATION ON Current Insights and Approaches to Allergy Management

Learning Objectives:

- Empower community pediatricians to improve and standardize diagnosis of allergic conditions
- Understand the importance of early dietary intervention to support lifelong health
- Enhance awareness of the evidence for the roles of probiotics and the microbiota in atopic outcomes

To register for this event, please visit:
MJNportal.com/registration and enter the event code below

Event Code: 26426

Please Note – emails are required for registration

Date: Thursday, January 21, 2021
Virtual Program
Login details will be provided upon registration

Presented By: Glendon Burress, MD
Pediatric Gastroenterologist
University of Illinois College of Medicine
Rockford, IL

Program Agenda:
6:15 PM CT Login
6:30 PM CT Presentation

Hosted By:
Tamara LaFollette
tamara.lafollette@rb.com
(817) 929-7421

RSVP By:
Tuesday, January 19, 2021

This program is intended for healthcare professionals only. Spouses or guests will not be allowed to attend this program. No Continuing Education credit will be provided for this program.